Emily's Day!

Story and photos by Miriam King, Bradford Times

➤ Last Friday was "Emily's Day" at the Highlands Golf Club in Bradford.

Every year, the Century 21 Heritage Group's Bradford Children's Charity Golf Tournament, founded by Realtor Luis Moniz, sets out to raise money not for a major charity or organization, but for a local child, who needs help meeting the challenges of disability or ill health.

This year, the Tournament held June 20 at The Highlands GC of Bradford, was a fundraiser for 12 year old Emily Szabo, a student at Mother Teresa Catholic School.

Health Centre welcomes new Family Doctors

The Bradford West Gwillimbury Family Health Centre, at 100 Holland Court, officially opened on June 23 - and there was reason to celebrate.

The Centre has been successful in its recruitment, and has added a new Registered Nurse, Krista Imrie; Nurse Practitioner Jennifer Mador, and two family physicians to its roster - which means that the Centre is now able to take new patients

The new physicians are Dr. Rhes Uy, who just completed her Family Medicine residency at Western University, and Dr. Pooja Handa, who completed her residency in the U.S. in 2011, and has been practising in Richmond Hill.

The new doctors will be joining Dr. Susan Kuzmyk, Dr. Mabel Hsin and Dr. Andy Tsang - the three physicians who formed the core of the Family Health Centre, and its partnership with the Southlake Academic Family Health Team - providing a broad range of medical services to Bradford West Gwillimbury residents, through a Satellite of the Southlake FHT.

It's been a long process, noted Town Manager Jay Currier - from a "germ of a thought" 5 or 6 years ago, to the opening of the Centre. With a rapidly growing population, and a shortage of family physicians and primary health care providers, the Town decided to apply for funding for a Family Health Team, and put together a strong application.

When the application was initially turned down by the Ministry of Health, "we were really disappointed," said Currier - but not discouraged. The municipality continued to work with the Ministry, which suggested it might be possible to establish a Satellite of the existing Southlake FHT.

It took a while to work through the details. It also took the support of Council, which

Madi wins her battle

For 12 year old Madi Vanstone, the past year has been a roller coaster ride - a series of ups and downs.

Learning that the new drug Kalydeco could "cure" her type of Cystic Fibrosis; struggling to raise the funds to pay for the drug - Vertex Pharmaceuticals dropped the price by 30% and private insurance covered 50% of the $350,000 cost, but the family was still left with a bill for about $60,000 - and trying to persuade the provincial government to pay for treatment.

There was the shock of hearing that the Ontario Ministry of Health didn't value her young life enough to provide coverage through OHIP - and there was the discovery that her school and her community valued her enough to take her part, and undertake a massive fundraising effort, to ensure she would be able to begin treatment with Kalydeco. Since starting treatment, Madi has seen a 110% improvement in her lung function.

Madi and her family never stopped fighting to have the drug covered by the province. On March 3, Madi, accompanied by Grade 6, 7 and 8 students from Sir William Ocker Public School, came to Queen's Park to ask the government to change its mind. The students were hosted by Simcoe-Grey MPP Jim Wilson, who not only gave them a tour of Queen's Park, but championed Madi's cause.

Whether it was pressure in the media, or just human decency, the Ministry relented. Shortly before the June 12 election, Madi was contacted by Health Minister Deb Matthews who told that negotiations were ongoing with Vertex, the manufacturer of Kalydeco, and that an agreement was expected shortly, to provide the drug to Madi and the 4% of Cystic Fibrosis patients with the same gene mutation.

Even so, the roller coaster ride wasn't quite over. There were miscommunications, conflicting information - and then on June 20, came the announcement: OHIP will cover Kalydeco.

On June 23, Madi and mom Beth Vanstone thanked classmates at Sir William Ocker PS, "for being a friend to Madi, for that fabulous fundraiser in the Beeton park, writing your terrific letters of support, coming down to Queen's Park... Everything you did." The success of the campaign showed "your voices do matter," Beth said. "You can make a difference. You can stand up and make change happen." It's a valuable life lesson, she said, teary-eyed. "If the answer is 'no', and it's something that is important to you - don't take the first 'no'."

MPP Wilson had been expected to attend, but the recall of the Legislature required his presence at Queen's Park. He sent a memento for each student: a photo of the group on the steps of the Legislature, when Madi and her classmates carried their message to the province.

"We did it," said Beth. "They did it." Photo: Beth Vanstone and Madi.

Cleaning up after the storm

Miriam King, Bradford Times

Wind damage at Albert's Marina, north of Holland Landing, after severe storms on June 17 swept through the area. One of the boat shelters was completely ripped apart - the roof flung hundreds of metres away - trapping several boats inside, and damaging others. Dozens of trees were knocked down.

The Town of Bradford West Gwillimbury's Public Works crews have been busy cleaning up, after the June 17 storm brought down trees and tree limbs across Town. There were numerous reports of funnel clouds spotted over Bradford, although none apparently touched down - unlike Angus, where an F2 tornado damaged over 100 homes.

Clean-up could take at least another week. Public Works also plans to pick up the bags of yard waste that have been sitting out at curbside, after missing the final County of Simcoe spring collection date.

The final yard waste collection was May 26 - but only in the north half of the County. The south half, including Innisfil and Bradford West Gwillimbury, had their last pick-up the week of May 19.

Some residents misread the waste management calendar; others knew the collection date had passed but hoped the Town would pick up anyway, to keep the municipality clean.

The Town will, this time - but in future plans to look at ways of partnering with the County, to better communicate with residents and ensure compliance with the collection schedule.

There is a need to "ramp up the dialogue with residents," said Director of Engineering Arup Mukherjee - and starting next spring, better promote the dates of collection. Now that the Town has taken over billing for water and wastewater, residents can expect to see reminders in their utility bills.

The strategy may also involve encouraging property owners to look at alternatives, including backyard composting of yard waste during the summer months.

The next scheduled curbside collection is in October, when there will be 5 biweekly collection dates.

Residents are reminded not to set out any yard waste bags during the summer months. Yard waste may be disposed of at no charge, at the West Gwillimbury Transfer Station, 2960 Line 12 BWG.

Town of Bradford West Gwillimbury Works crews were busy, on June 23, picking up brush and downed limbs from the earlier storm. Here, cleaning up on Colborne St. in Bradford.

Council on Summer Break

Council is now on its summer hiatus. There will be no meetings of Bradford West Gwillimbury Town Council in July; the next meeting will take place Tues., August 5th, 7 p.m. in the Zima Room, Bradford Public Library.

In the Town of Innisfil, Council meets only once per month in both July and August, on the 2nd Wednesday of each month.

Northern Waters Presbytery Conference calls for reform

Northern Waters Presbytery in Toronto Conference, The United Church of Canada, has stepped out of familiar territory to take on what it sees as a growing problem in Canada: the loss of public confidence in Parliament.

The Presbytery, inspired by a series of articles in the Globe and Mail, identified a number of concerns:

- Backbenchers have less and less ability to affect change.
- Omnibus bills are too large to be considered properly.
- The process of proroguing causes important Bills in process to be dropped.

- Partisan attack ads are disturbing; this practice only lowers everyone's opinion of politicians.
- Ethical and intelligent people will not want to become an MP.

The Presbytery's Call to Action is encouraging individuals to consider prayerfully the actions he/she might be able to take to restore public confidence in Parliament. These actions might include contacting their Members of Parliament, or writing letters to the editor, to recommend implementing the following:

- Restrict by legislation the practice of party electioneering outside of election campaigns.
- Abolish attack ads completely, even during elections.
- Abolish omnibus bills.
- Restrict the use of confidence votes and increase the number of free votes in Parliament.
- Restore the per vote subsidy for political parties.
- Protect bills in process from being dropped when Parliament is prorogued, unless an election is called.
- Initiate a national commission to determine which specific forms of electoral reform would strengthen democracy while maintaining National Unity in Canada.

For more information see www.townhousconference.ca/northernwaters or contact the Peace and Justice Committee through the Northern Waters Presbytery Office, 1-800-446-4729 ext. 240.

Showing respect for Heritage

We're not sure that the Heritage Act wasn't written specifically with the new Owners of 108 Moore St. in mind.

Delmark Homes has been buying up older homes on oversized lots, only to tear them down to build town homes, duplexes and triplexes, that do not necessarily fit the existing neighbourhood but do maximize profit.

It makes no sense to equate their ownership of a property, with the ownership by a taxpayer resident - to speak of "respecting" their property rights is in effect to disrespect the rights of their neighbours.

Being told that the home at 108 Moore St. was not on the Heritage registry before they purchased was never a guarantee that the property would not be listed. To argue that just because someone told them it was not protected means that it should be unprotected is equivalent to a homeowner objecting to the development of a subdivision behind his home, because someone once told him it was a County forest.

That said, clearly not every older property merits the protection of the Heritage Act.

Delmark demolished the old cottage on John St. West, once owned by St. John's Presbyterian Church. In that case, we have to applaud the company; the home was in poor shape, and an eyesore while the Townhomes being built will be an asset to the neighbourhood.

The point is, the Town needs to step up and decide which properties should be protected for future generations, and which are candidates for infilling. And the decision should be based on heritage and history, not who has the deepest pockets or the strongest financial interest.

Response from Chillfest

To the editor: Re the letter to the editor from "Name Withheld".

The Chillfest event was organized by a group of 8 volunteers that live in Bradford West Gwillimbury, all bringing different strengths to the table while sharing their passion to give back to their community. Some of us are local business owners, some professionals and some just want to have fun.

We all volunteer countless hours, having weekly meetings, planning, promoting, executing and finally, post-event debriefing. All volunteered hours, might I add, and NOBODY getting paid.

You questioned the $5,000 seed money that Council agreed to invest into the event. An event of this magnitude, with the quality of entertainment it had, did cost a fair bit, as does promoting the event. So yes, definitely costs were incurred, including insurance, police, Town fees, waste, fencing, signage, stage, sound, lighting, artists - but we managed to profit just a little bit, thanks to the great weather.

As a group, our objective was to bring lots of people downtown, increase downtown business awareness, raise funds and awareness for charities and to celebrate together in the place we call "Our Community, Our Home."

Together we enjoyed good music, good food and good company. Our vision, to bring Bradford these events, comes from the heart. It really does feel good to give back to the community you live in.

As a first-time event, we didn't know what to expect. Will it rain? Will people show up? Will the downtown businesses get good exposure? Overall, Bradford Chillfest was a great success, achieving all of our objectives, and we want to once again thank Members of Council on their decision to invest in this event, and trust our group. We also want to thank all of our sponsors, including Title Sponsor, Summerlyn Dental Care, for their generous support. Without that support, this event would not have happened.

The Chillfest Event raised $2,500 for Kerry's Place Adult Services. Diego Carvalho, a local young triathlete, will receive $500 to help with his triathlon success - proudly donated by 3 Scoops Ice Cream, La Pizzeria, Joe's Bar & Restaurant, and The Canadian Grill, from a portion of their event sales. We also want to thank these generous and committed downtown businesses for their donations, supporting young athletes.

Chillfest brought revenues in the thousands of dollars for local businesses, who gained great exposure - some having record one-day sales. So to all of you who don't believe, just say the word and we'll fold up our group NOT! See everyone at the 2nd annual Bradford RibFest 2014, Bradford's biggest backyard BBQ, September 19-21 at Zehr's Market Field. Cheers!

Ricky Brooks, Chair Bradford Chillfest

Elections Ontario responds

Re: "BWG Leisure Centre, Cookstown"
To the editor: The Notice of Registration Card (NORC) is sent to over 9.2 million voters, directing them to almost 27,000 polls at over 8,000 voting locations across Ontario.

Information on the voters list is updated between elections by comparing Election Ontario's Information with federal and municipal partners that also conduct elections. Elections Ontario also receives information from the Government of Canada and its agencies, the Government of Ontario and its agencies, and municipalities in Ontario.

It is possible that we were provided with incorrect information, which led to the error. This non-fixed date election. Returning Officers around the province would be secure from 8,000 voting locations in an extremely short space of time. If an error on the card is discovered, Elections Ontario works to correct it immediately. In this case, we published advertisements in the local media, including

The Bradford Times. We also used social media and directed voters to determine where they could vote by visiting our website at www.uwemakevotingeasy.ca or by calling our toll-free number, 1-888-668-8683.

The card is part of communication and outreach to individual electors, to inform them of the information we have on the register for each of them at the moment an election is called. The card also contains information on voting locations, but it is not needed to vote. As long as a voter has valid ID they can cast their ballot at any advance voting location, by Special Ballot, at a returning office, or on June 12 at a polling location. In 2014 there were 29 days for voters to cast their ballots.

In terms of accessibility, all of the more than 6,000 voting locations Elections Ontario used for the 2014 provincial election were required under law to pass a very thorough accessibility inspection that included a comprehensive accessibility review, discussions with onsite personnel, and diagramming the location and accessible route.

As the agency charged with administering the provincial election, Elections Ontario strives to serve all electors in Ontario with a range of tools and processes for voting. We aim to remove barriers to voting and offer 29 days and a variety of ways for voters to cast their ballots.

We apologize if some voters were not entirely satisfied with their voting experience, and encourage the public to offer us feedback on how we can improve the process, by emailing info@elections.on.ca or calling 1-888-668-8683.

Peter Berry, Communications
Co-ordinator, Elections Ontario

Now the work begins

To the editor: Our Provincial election is over, and we have a clear majority government. Many of us, thinking we have done our duty, will go back to ignoring politics, until the next election when we will be surprised that what we wanted didn't happen.

Now is when we start making our vote count.

Whether you voted for our MPP or not, whether or not you voted for the majority party, get involved - it really doesn't take a lot. If you didn't like the outcome, and want the next election to go differently, join the local riding association now. You can have a say in what the party does and thinks and have a voice in selecting their next candidate.

Have a favourite issue? My top 3 issues are transparency, farmland, and water. Join an advocacy group and help get the message out to other people and to our government about what you think needs to happen.

Watch the news and keep track of what those folks at Queen's Park are doing. Don't be afraid to send an email or a letter, and let them know what you think. Better yet, when you see our MPP or Premier in public, introduce yourself, and tell them your concerns.

Remember, when a politician hears nothing, he or she assumes the silence is assent. Also, the thing they want most is re-election; let's make them understand they work for us.

Let's make this last election a turning point, and take back our government.

Don't miss
the Early Bird!

Last year, the Bradford Lions made a momentous decision. Instead of offering a Cadillac as the top prize in their 60th annual Mammoth car draw fundraiser, they decided to offer two vehicle prizes - a brand-new Chevrolet Cruze, and a GMC Silverado pick-up truck. The Lions were a little nervous about changing a formula that had worked for 59 years. They needn't have worried. The 1700 tickets sold out in record time.

This year, they're doing it again - with over $106,000 in prizes, including a white Chev Cruze, and a black Silverado pick-up truck. Tickets are still $100 each, which includes 3 early bird prizes of $1000 (the first to be drawn on Canada Day, July 1), and admits 2 to an evening of entertainment at the Bradford Community Centre on the night of the draw. Tickets available from any Lion, or call 905-775-9170.

FIREWORKS SAFETY

Fireworks are a tradition on the Canada Day long weekend. They can provide family entertainment but must be used by adults carefully and safely. To insure the safety of both the audience and those lighting the fireworks, we recommend that you follow these fireworks safety measures during your fireworks display.

- Handling and discharging of fireworks must only be done by adults. Assign one person to be in charge, who knows about the hazards of fireworks and essential safety precautions.
- Carefully read and follow the label directions on fireworks packaging.
- Always keep a water hose or pail of water close by.
- Discharge fireworks well away from combustible materials like buildings, trees and dry grass.
- Light only one firework at a time, and never try to light a firework, or hold a lit firework, in your hand.
- Never re-light "duds" of fireworks. It is best to wait 30 minutes and then soak them in a bucket of water.
- Never give sparklers to small children. While sparklers are considered to be harmless fun, they burn extremely hot and can ignite clothing, cause blindness and result in severe burns. As the sparkler wire remains hot for some minutes after burnout, it should be immediately soaked in water to avoid injury.
- If someone gets burned, run cool water over the wound for three to five minutes and seek medical attention if necessary.

The Bradford West Gwillimbury Fire Department suggests attending public fireworks displays hosted by a responsible organization, if you still choose to have a family fireworks or informal neighbourhood display, check with the Enforcement Division about regulations pertaining to the handling and discharging of fireworks for these activities. The Enforcement Division can be reached at (905) 775-5366. For further information on fire safety and prevention, call the Fire Prevention Division of the Bradford West Gwillimbury Fire Department at (905) 775-7311 Ext. 4103.

Deputy Chief, Retired

Al Cheesman, former South Simcoe Police Deputy Chief, has already begun to enjoy retirement. He and his wife Sheila have been travelling - and on June 13, he donned a Hawaiian shirt picked up in his travels, for the retirement party held in his honour at the Club at Bond Head.

The event included an afternoon of golf - 9 holes at the top-rated course - followed by dinner and speeches in the Club House. Cheesman was honoured for his 41 years of service, with York Regional, Bradford West Gwillimbury, and South Simcoe Police.

Among the 75 or so guests at dinner were the Mayors of Innisfil and Bradford West Gwillimbury. The South Simcoe Police Service is shared by the two municipalities, and both Innisfil Mayor Barb Baguley and BWG Mayor Doug White, who sit on the Police Services Board, wanted to thank the former Deputy Chief for his contributions.

Also in attendance were officers from both South Simcoe and York Regional Police, including YRP Chief Eric Joffille, members of Council, friends and family. South Simcoe Police Chief Rick Bezzy not only attended the event, he served as Cheesman's driver, and caddy.

There were farewell speeches, and gifts. Among the presents, a cartoon of a new Super Hero - Cheesman - signed with best wishes for a super retirement.

South Simcoe Police Report

Theft of Heavy Equipment

South Simcoe Police are investigating the theft of a backhoe from a farm on County Rd. 27, north of Cookstown. Some time after 9 p.m. on June 23, a 1998 John Deere Backhoe was driven away from the owner's property, travelling southbound. Anyone with information regarding this theft is asked to call South Simcoe Police, or Crime Stoppers, 1-800-222-TIPS.

Over .080

At 8:50 p.m. on June 21, a South Simcoe Police Constable conducting a radar check on Innisfil Beach Rd., near Jane Blvd., in Alcona, clocked a vehicle travelling well over the posted speed limit. The vehicle was stopped for speeding, while talking with the driver, the officer detected an odor of alcohol. A roadside breath test resulted in a Fail. The driver, a 27 year old Innisfil man, was arrested for Over .080 - but the Officer had to wait until a family member arrived, because the driver had his infant child in the vehicle. Once the child was picked up by the family, the driver was taken to North Division, where further breath tests registered over the legal limit. He was charged with Over .080, his vehicle was impounded for 7 days, and his licence suspended for 90 days.

Warn Range at the Courthouse

At about 2 p.m. on June 16, a 35 year old Innisfil male attended the Provincial Court in Churchill, Innisfil. While he was speaking to a Crown Attorney on an unrelated matter, the Crown could smell alcohol on the man's breath. South Simcoe Police were advised that the man might have been drinking and driving - and spotted the male leaving the courthouse and entering a motor vehicle. As he started to drive off, an officer pulled him over and administered a roadside screening test, which resulted in a Warn range suspension. It was his 3rd Warn range suspension; his licence was suspended for 30 days, his driver's licence seized - and his vehicle was removed by a friend.

Police advise residents to Lock it or Lose it - remove valuables from vehicles, and lock the doors.

Above, Comfort Stride Foot Clinic Coordinator Stephen Chu drops off Sock Drive donations to the Blue Door Shelters.

"We thank the wonderful people of Bradford for helping to make our May Foot Health Month Sock Drive a success. We collected a giant bag full of socks, and even had a nice sum of cash to donate, on top of that. The Shelter thanked us, and in turn, thanked all of you!"
"It's so nice to be in a Town full of such kind, generous people."

Family Health Centre welcomes new Doctors

DOCTORS from Page 1 committed to transforming the old Bradford Library into a modern health centre that would provide a home base for the satellite. Credit was given to Dennis Roughley, former Deputy Mayor, who took the lead on the project, contacting physicians in Bradford to determine their level of interest, and establishing ties with Southlake Regional Health Centre. Three doctors "bought into" the concept early in the process - Doctors Kuzmyk, Hsin and Tsang - and established a Family Health Organization that formed the basis for the Satellite centre. MP for York-Simcoe, Peter Van Loan congratulated the Town on their success, in improving access to health care for residents. Julia Munro, recently re-elected as MPP for the riding, added her congratulations and praise. "The dream was that the Library would morph into what we have today. It just shows how much of a vision can be transformed into a reality, when everyone works together."

Dr. Kuzmyk noted that all of the doctors in Bradford are committed to serving the local residents, and work long hours, "but we needed more." With the help of Southlake, recruitment has been successful, and there are plans to fill a third physician opening, in the near future.

"The building, the people, the commitment, the vision," said Dr. Kuzmyk - all have come together to ensure excellence in health care for residents.

"What a big, big day it is for our Town," said

Mayor Doug White, who thanked his Council colleagues for their support for the Family Health Centre. "We had a vision for this property, we stuck with it... This was a total team effort."

He credited both the 3 founding doctors and Dennis Roughley with the success of the endeavour. "Who's the big winner? The winner is the Town of BWG. We are providing opportunities and options to our residents that they didn't have before."

A plaque was unveiled, recognizing Roughley's contributions. Roughley, who still is a member of the Board of Directors at Southlake, noted, "One of our visions is to extend our hospital activities into our communities, to encourage and attract more General Practitioners to our communities. These are the things we think are important, that are happening and that will keep happening."

"It can't do anything but help our Town." Anyone without a local Family physician who would like to become a patient at the Family Health Centre should visit www.gotobwg.ca/FHC or call the Town at 905-775-5366.

In 2013, St. John Ambulance of Barrie-Simcoe Muskoka provided 24,573 hours of volunteer service, Medical First Response to 247 patients, brought Therapy Dogs to visit with 2,182 clients, devoted 940 hours to Youth Development, and trained 5,356 people in First Aid, Health and Safety-related courses.

So, imagine how much the branch has done since it was established in 1941 - and how much the Order of St. John has accomplished in its 915 year history as a humanitarian, charitable organization."

The Town of Bradford West Gwillimbury proclaimed June 23-29 as St. John Ambulance Week in the municipality, and on June 23 raised the St. John Ambulance flag, bearing the Maltese Cross, at the Bradford Courthouse. Deputy Mayor Rob Keffer read the proclamation, urging all citizens to "recognize the work done by this community organization."

Strawberry fields forever

People may not like the cool, almost chilly evenings, and the temperatures hovering in the low 20s - but strawberries love it.

"They don't like that real heavy heat," says Sam Visser, at Visser's Pick Your Own Strawberries, 4501 - 20th Sideroad, just north of the 13th Line BWG. The result: one of the best crops in years.

Long time Bradford resident Sonia Conway brought a helper along, to pick strawberries on June 21. Granddaughter Ella Violet, 5 and a half, was excited to help fill a basket with the ripe berries - especially since they would be used to make a Strawberry Shortcake for mom Jennifer's Birthday.

The fields are green, the berries are luscious and ripe, and Visser Farms is open from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. daily, Monday to Saturday; closed Sundays. June 26 was opening day.

Monitoring for Emerald Ash Borer

Simcoe County - Earlier this year, the presence of Emerald Ash Borer was confirmed in Simcoe County, within the Town of Bradford West Gwillimbury.

In response, the County plans to monitor the spread of the invasive insect, by installing 60 traps in strategic locations throughout the region - including the cities of Barrie and Orillia. The highly visible, green, triangular sticky traps will be left in place from late May, to August 2014. Residents are asked to leave the traps untouched, and in place.

Each week, more fresh produce is available at the Bradford Farmers' Market, which takes place every Saturday from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the parking lot beside the Bradford Public Library, at 425 Holland St. West.

BWG Heritage Home Tour

The homes on the 2014 Heritage Home Tour had one thing in common, besides the fact that they were all built in the 19th Century, and have survived more than 100 years, gracefully intact - and that is, the love and care that the owners have lavished on each of these historic buildings.

Not that any of the six houses on the self-directed tour, organized by the BWG Local History Association, had the feel of a museum. Original hardwood floors, sash windows and trim were preserved, but every owner had made modifications and introduced upgrades, to meet their family's needs.

Homes like the MacDonald-Milos House on Frederick St., a charming cottage built by Scottish Architect George MacDonald in 1882, combined the historic, and the modern.

Don and Diane Milos have owned the house since 1976, and have renovated and restored the home to showcase their collection of antiques and memorabilia. They were also instrumental in having the lane behind their home renamed, "MacDonald Lane".

MacDonald, who came to Bradford at the age of 27, is credited with building the old St. John's Presbyterian Church, on Church St., now demolished. "George MacDonald has been forgotten," said Don. "He wanted to be known for building the churches of Bradford, for free. He never charged a penny."

The Hamer-Cooper home on County Rd. 88 is also a harmonious blend of old and "new." The original front half of the house, with its high ceilings and elegant staircase, was built circa 1855-1861. A later addition, built at the turn of the century, provided kitchen and bedroom space - all lovingly restored to create a cohesive whole that has a surprisingly modern feel, while preserving the original features.

There were two stops in the hamlet of Newton Robinson - one at the Tec-We-Gwill Women's Institute Hall, where refreshments were served, and the other, the Dickey-Philp House, built circa 1865 for John Dickey.

The home is a spectacular example of "Flemish Bond" brickwork - at least, where it fronts Highway 27. A master bricklayer did the work, creating a checkerboard effect, with the soft local salmon and yellow bricks - but the brickwork on the sides was left to an apprentice.

At each home, the owners or their representatives welcomed visitors, and shared their stories - and made it clear that Heritage is a continuum, bringing past and present together, to preserve history for future generations.

The Tour was a fundraiser for the restoration of the Auld Kirk on the 6th Line, also one of the stops - and raised $1,940.

Pony Retirement Party!

Robyn Freer hands Audrina a green apple, to give to Echo the pony, at his "Retirement Party" on June 22. Audrina, 5, is one of many youngsters who learned to ride on the "awesome little pony."

For six and a half years, Echo has been part of Foxwood Farm's riding stable. "He has probably taught more than 50 kids to ride," says Robyn Freer, Foxwood owner. "He's an awesome little pony."
But now Echo, who is well over 20 years old, is showing signs of his age, after years of providing rides at horse camps, riding lessons, and pony parties. He has a condition called "founder," that causes the laminae of the hoof to become inflamed. It's a condition that has been monitored and controlled, but as Echo ages, who has been stepping more gingerly, obviously in some discomfort.
So he'll be retired, but stay at Foxwood, to remain with his "herd," and where students like Audrina can visit, and feed him his favourite treats, green apples and carrots.
On June 22, as part of his Spring Horse Show, Foxwood held a Retirement Party for Echo. Audrina, nearly 5, and other riders presented the pony with hand-made cards, and a bucket of treats. "He'll live out his life here," says Freer - still a beloved part of Foxwood.

Emily is bright, pretty and outgoing - but has a severe form of cerebral palsy, that restricts her mobility, and her ability to communicate. Right now, she receives 7 physiotherapist visits through the school, and 10 sessions with a speech therapist, per year.
The funding raised by the Golf Tourney will be used to pay for additional therapy, says mom Paula. "We want to get her more sessions for her speech."

Paula is also hoping that enough is raised to help purchase a wheelchair van. Right now, the family has to load and unload Emily's chair into the back of a pick-up truck, using a ramp - something that Paula can't do on her own.

A van would allow Emily to have more independence, and more options - going shopping, attending parties, just visiting with her friends.

Pamela Prescott, Owner/Broker of Century 21 Heritage Group, explained that the Real Estate firm wanted to make sure the day was extra-special for Emily and her family.

Not only were the Szabos honoured guests at the Golf Club, for lunch and dinner - the theme of the tourney was "Emily's Day."

Century 21 handed out coolers and picnic baskets printed with "Emily's Day" and arranged a special surprise: a mock-up of a fashion magazine, with Emily as the cover girl. Emily had confessed that she'd love to be some day on the cover of Seventeen.

And the young student recaptured. She prepared a gift for every golfer that included a keychain flashlight, with the message, "Thank you for lighting up my life," and a hand-written note of thanks.

TD Summer Reading Club!

On June 21, the Free Family Saturday at the Bradford Public Library offered more than crafts. It offered crazy science, and "Eureka!" moments, to launch the annual TD Summer Reading Club for young readers - a free program that rewards kids who read with stickers, activities, and prizes.

The theme this year is "Eureka!" which explained the weird science on Saturday.

Kids could make an optical illusion, or play with a non-Newtonian fluid - something that can be both a solid and a liquid. And they were invited to discover their own potential, through reading and creativity.

This year, the Summer Reading Club will be a little more structured - and offer a lot more activities.

Kids who sign up can access the Discovery Lab at the Library, Mondays from 5 to 8 p.m.; Tuesdays from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Wednesdays from 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.; Thurs. and Fri. from 1 to 5:30 p.m., and Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., to report on the books they have read, receive special prizes, and enter contests. The summer reading program wraps up on August 15, with a final Club Party.

So often there can be friction between Moms and their tween-age daughters.

That's one reason why Atmosphere Changers and Real Girl Studio hosted a Be Awesome Mother & Daughter Self-Esteem event, at the Bradford Public Library on June 14. Moms, and their daughters ages 7 to 12, were invited to attend.

It was an opportunity to build a positive self-image and sense of self-worth, and strengthen those Mother-Daughter bonds, during a sold-out afternoon of fashion and fun. Participants could visit information booths, take part in a fashion design project, enjoy free manicures, free make-up with Brittany Buck Hair & Beauty Boutique, get energetic with Zumba, and calm down with Yoga.

There were sweet treats, from mini-cupcakes to cinnamon swirls, pink lemonade - and a fabulous summer fashion show, with fashions from The Pink Closet in Bradford, and Triple Flip active wear at Upper Canada Mall.

An inspirational speaker and co-organizer of the event, Lisa Artuso, spoke about Self-Esteem, and the importance of loving and respecting yourself - often difficult for girls, facing pressures from the media and their peers.

A portion of the proceeds of ticket sales will be going to The Hub Youth Drop in Centre, and Hub Youth co-ordinator Jenna Wickens emceed the Awesome event.

Playground fundraiser for W.H. Day hits Phase 1 goal

W.H. Day Elementary's School Council launched a unique project earlier this year: to build Bradford's first barrier-free playground, that would also be open to the community at large.

The school year at W.H. Day merges with the open area that is part of a large hydro easement of an area popular with neighbourhood families, who walk in summer and toboggan in winter.

Building a barrier-free playground, and an outdoor classroom, would offer greater options for all kids to play, whatever their ability.

The School Council set a goal of $50,000, and began fundraising - hoping to raise at least $35,000 by the end of the school year, to allow construction of "play" including a wheelchair ramp, before school returns in September.

It seemed an almost impossible target for a school of approximately 490 students.

Through in-school fundraisers, corporate donations and contributions from local businesses, a Donation Thermometer marked the ever-growing total.

Spirit Day at the School raised $2,000, and the Council received a $2000 donation from Robin Evans' Charity Golf Tournament.

A Yuk Yuk's Dinner & Comedy Night, held June 14 at Holy Martyrs of Japan Church, raised about $7,700.

And in Council on June 17, Bradford West Gwillimbury Council members approved the recommendation of the BWG Accessibility Advisory Committee, to donate $5000 from the AAC's budget to the campaign.

Students from W.H. Day had appeared as a delegation before Council to explain the project, but did not ask for any money. It was the AAC who felt that a barrier-free, inclusive, handicapped-accessible play area was part of their mandate.

Councillor Raj Sandhu supported the one-time donation. He also expressed a hope that the Simcoe County District School Board would provide some funding. "I hope the School Board steps up to the plate. They get a good amount of taxes from the parents," he said.

Deputy Mayor Rob Keffer agreed. "This does open up a can of worms, as far as the school board - why aren't they stepping up? It's unfortunate that they're not picking up their end of community schooling."

Council was advised that the SCDSB no longer allocates funding for playground equipment; it is up to School Councils and parents to raise the funds.

The Deputy Mayor warned of setting a precedent by providing Town funding - but Councillor Peter Dyble Jr. suggested it would be a "positive" precedent, and that a barrier-free playground would be setting "a good standard" in the community.

Mayor Doug White also warned of setting precedent, suggesting that as a result, Council will be getting applications for funding from all 11 Bradford schools - and criticising the SCDSB for not paying for outdoor play areas.

In the end, Council did approve the recommendation and the $5,000 donation, bringing the fundraising total of $44,400 - and ensuring that Phase 1 will be constructed this summer.

A Hero's welcome

Photos and story by Miriam King, Bradford Times
From right, Councillors Raj Sandhu and Gary Lamb, Mayor Doug White congratulate franchise owner John Nikbakht, as Councillor Carl Hordyk brings greetings from the M.P.

West Park Plaza at 444-450 Holland St. West in Bradford, is a foodie's delight.

Those with an appetite for culinary adventure can sample Chinese (Great Wall), Japanese (Akita Sushi), Portuguese (Doce Minho North Bakery, Poleiro BBQ), Italian (L'Antica Ristorante, Pizzaville), and Canadian (Map Brown's Chicken, Menchie's Yogurt, Crabby Joe's Tap & Grill). Now, diners have another choice: Hero Certified Burgers, at 444 Holland St. West.

Hero Certified Burgers are 100% heritage Angus Beef, raised hormone and antibiotic-free, and Halal Certified - but that's not what sets the chain apart. It's the toppings. Not just cheese, but a choice of cheddar, blue cheese, lactose-free Swiss cheese, and goat cheese. Not just bacon, but 3 kinds of bacon - plus sautéed onions, fire-roasted peppers, guacamole, Portobello mushrooms, and even a fried egg, for those who dare.

Each burger is made fresh - a process that can take 6 minutes - and the toppings are lavishly piled on, so that every bite provides a taste of every topping.

It's the Official Burger of the Raptors, Leafs and Marlies, and at the Grand Opening on June 21, Leaf Shayne Corson was on hand to sign autographs, and pose for photographs. Welcoming franchise owner John Nikbakht to Town were Bradford West Gwillimbury Mayor Doug White and Councillors Gary Lamb, Carl Hordyk and Raj Sandhu. Mayor White called Hero Certified Burgers "second to none," and thanked Nikbakht for choosing to "invest your time and effort in our Town."

Then the Mayor stepped behind the counter, to try his hand at making a certified burger for himself.

Hero also offers a vegetarian Soul Burger, Wild Alaskan fillet of Salmon, hot dogs, fries, poutine, shakes and Sundae's, seven days a week. For more information, see heroburger.com or call 905-775-4449. Open from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. Sunday to Thursday; 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. Friday and Saturday.

Upper Canada Mall celebrates Portraits of Caring

Anyone with a school-aged child has heard of "Character Education" - the campaign to build character and caring individuals, by focussing on specific character traits. Traits like Respect. Honesty. Inclusivity. Empathy. Compassion.

It's a program that isn't limited to the schools, though. There are also Character Communities, which take the same approach to encouraging positive character traits through their programs and operations, to build a stronger, more caring community.

That's what inspired photographer Karen Merk.

Merk moved from Toronto to York Region 15 years ago, and in doing so, met so many community members who "give back." It didn't seem that happening in Toronto. It really inspired me.

Five years ago, she began to photograph some of those "community givers," who use their position, their businesses and their passion, to work towards making their communities better places.

She started with ten individuals, and every year added another ten. "These are people I have met and know. I see them giving back."

The result is a remarkable collection of photos, each showing the "community giver" against a backdrop that expresses their interests. The originals are in colour, but Merk converts them to black and white, sometimes with sepia tones, to provide a more cohesive whole.

Her 5th Anniversary Portraits of Giving exhibition opened at Upper Canada Mall in Newmarket on June 19, at a special reception. Portraits of Giving consists of 40 photos - not only this year's honorees, but 30 past Community Givers, who were also invited to the event.

The number 40 had a special significance: the date and Reception also marked the 40th Anniversary of the Mall, which has become a premier shopping destination in York Region and South Simcoe - and which has, over those 40 years, been deeply involved in community-building activities.

Upper Canada Mall is the title sponsor of the Easter Seals Run/Walk, founded by Joe Persechini; hosted the Hope in Purple Heels Gala, raising funds for Bellinda's Place

Shelter, and the Festival of Trees, for Southlake hospital.

Former General Manager, Robert Horst, was one of this year's honorees.

Also recognized were Newmarket's Jackie Player and Maria Racco; Tim Jones and Marc Neef of Aurora; Corinne Griffiths and Mary Anne of Richmond Hill; Georgia's Jennifer Anderson; Vaughan's John Amendola, and from Markham, Roysen Ng.

Merk praised the professionals and business people in the community, "who give back and make our community a better place to live, work and play... they're all amazing. Gorgeous on the inside and out."

Motivational speaker Steve Kearley, of Benson Kearley IFG, urged the business and community leaders at the Reception to salute the subjects of Portraits, "celebrate the thousands of lives they've impacted by their giving," and to make "giving back" part of their own business model and daily lives.

Portraits of Caring is on display at Upper Canada Mall's Centre Court until July 2, and then will tour communities in York Region.

Bradford CIBC Branch manager Michelle Moonise (4th from left) with customer Sister Jean Doyle, and CIBC staff - dressed up as a FIFA World Cup theme for Customer Appreciation Day, June 13.

CIBC in Bradford hosted its monthly Customer Appreciation Day on June 13, on the theme of... what else? FIFA World Cup. The branch at 549 Holland St. West was strung with flags of the participating nations, and every staff member wore a T-shirt, roofing for a team. To round out the theme, a large-screen TV was brought in and will be tuned to World Cup soccer action until July 13. Customers could also fill out a ballot, to win an official commemorative 2014 FIFA World Cup silver coin.

Sugar Bowl Day in BWG

Teresa Araujo, owner of The Sugar Bowl cake-decorating company in Bradford, partnered with Vanessa Maria Fiorini of Woodbridge, to win the Big Gâteau Cake Decorating Competition in New Orleans, Louisiana this year.

On June 17, Araujo was congratulated on the international win during a meeting of Bradford West Gwillimbury Council. Mayor Doug White presented her with a plaque and officially proclaimed June 17 as "The Sugar Bowl Day in BWG."

"I have a passion for it," said Araujo of her cake decorating creativity. "I love doing it."

BBT After Hrs.

The next Bradford Board of Trade "Business After Hours" networking event takes place 5:30 p.m. on Wednesday, July 16 at Cardinal Golf Club on Hwy. 9 - and includes an 18 hole Mini-Putt Adventure, plus a complimentary BBQ provided by Cardinal.

Please pre-register for this evening of camaraderie, social networking and Mini-Putt fun, at www.bradfordboardoftrade.com
